GRADE ATHLETES CONTEST SATURDAY

Big Semi-Annual Field Day at the Fair Grounds Expected to Develop Talent

PROF. WIELAND TO JUDGE

Physical Director Joerske Promoting Event in which Many Will Participate

The semi-annual track and field meet for the eighth grade boys will be held next Saturday morning, Oct. 9, at the Interstate fair grounds.

Physical Director Joerske, who is the promoter of the fall meets, has announced that the arrangements are about complete and the indications are that this meet will be a greater success than the previous ones. Although the old stars such as Wiles, Hackett, Marshall, Arenz and several others, will not compete this fall, there is an abundance of new material and the competition will be keener than ever in every event.

These track meets are promoted by Mr. Joerske in the fall and by the high school athletic association of the high school in the spring, the purpose being to encourage boys in this line of work before they enter the high school. Professor Wieland has been asked to act as judge. The winners will be awarded badges. The team having the largest number of points at the end of the meet will be awarded a handsome pennant.

The following is the list of events: One hundred yard dash, 220 yard dash, pole vault, standing broad jump, running broad jump, high jump, shot put, half mile relay, to be run by four boys of each school. The Sixth, Second, Tenth and Fifth district schools are to enter the meet.

The season of 1909 was brought to a close at Cincinnati yesterday, Pittsburgh winning both games of the double header from the Reds.

Adams and Maddox, two of the pitchers Manager Clarke will use in the World's series, were hit hard.

The batting of Oakes in the second game was the feature. He secured a home run, a double and two singles in four times up.

A ninth inning rally in the second game gave St. Louis an even break with Chicago in a double header here. The Cubs took the first game, 6 to 1, and the Cardinals took the second, 4 to 3.

The Boston Doves captured the final game of its series with the Super-bas at Brooklyn yesterday. The Doves rallied in the tenth and scored two runs.

PIRATES FAVORED IN WORLD'S SERIES

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 6.—All reserved seats for the two games of the world's series between Pittsburgh and Detroit, having been disposed of, there is nothing left for the fans to do but spend the time until the opening game figuring the "dope."

It is estimated that $200,000 has been waged within the last two days. Detroit fans are evidently confident, as a great bulk of the bets are made at even money. The other Tiger backers are not so liberal, however, and are asking odds of 10 to 7 and 10 to 8. Local plungers regard the teams as even choices but the belief is expressed that the Pirates will be made slight favorites by the opening.

Aside from the straight betting on the result of the games, freak bets are many and there has been considerable money posted that Wagner will outbat Cobb. Gibson will do all the catching for the Pirates and there is betting that there will be fewer bases stolen on him than either off Schmidt or Stanage of Detroit.

The fans are anxious that something be done to cause Tyrus Cobb to forget his batting eye in the series, and were jubilant today when it was announced that either Babe Adams or Vic Willis would pitch the opening game. This is a direct slap at Cobb as both Adams and Willis depend chiefly on the drop ball, which is the Tiger's slugger's weak point. The Pirates' squad is now in excellent shape. Camnitz being out on Monday after a week's illness. George Gibson left the team last night and started for home to rest up before the games, and before Friday morning Manager Clark will have his strongest lineup to face the Jennings crowd.

RECORD CROWD AT CUBS SOX GAMES

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Chicago hasn't a world's series to play off here but the fans are just as interested and are displaying their rolls in anticipation of the Cubs Sox championship series which will begin here Friday as if a world's pennant was at stake. The main fight of the fans began at noon today when the first tickets for the engagement were placed on sale. According to the eagerness with which the local enthusiasts grabbed up the first offering, a record breaking crowd is expected.

DIRECTORS TALK NEW BALL PARK

A meeting of the directors of the La Crosse baseball club has been called for Friday evening by President Rooney. At this meeting plans for next season will be discussed. One of the chief topics of interest will undoubtedly be a discussion and perhaps plans for a park on the river levee.

FREE RECIPE BOOK

The culinary and medicinal value of lemons are so many and varied and so little understood by many housekeepers that the California Fruit Growers' Exchange of Los Angeles, California, has prepared a 30-page booklet giving recipes and formulas for the use of lemons in the home.

This valuable little booklet will be sent to any one on request by addressing the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, Los Angeles, California.

BENEZET URGES COLLEGE COURSE

At a mass meeting of the high school students on Tuesday, Professor Benezet addressed the boys and girls on the reasons why it is essential that they finish at least their high school education and if possible extend their school days through a college course.

Mr. Benezet said that within the last two weeks several boys and girls came to him saying that they intended to leave school to accept positions for which they were to receive large compensations.

"These salaries connected with these positions may look large now," he said, "but later in life the wages paid are just about the same and if a boy or girl has a liberal education they can generally command a much higher salary."

To illustrate this he told of a schoolmate of his who stopped school while in the midst of his sophomore year to accept a fine position with a bank. This same man is today working for the paltry sum of $55 a month, although he is well along in years. Mr. Benezet closed his talk urging every student of the high school to plan his course for some college, even if at the present time the chances for going away to school may look slim. Some time he said the opportunity may come when it is the least expected.

JOHNSON GOES TO BARBERS' SESSION

Casper (Cooper) Johnson, employed at Linker Brothers' barbershop, left Monday for Milwaukee where he will attend the International Barbers' convention this week. He is the only local delegate. There will be about 650 tonsorial artists from all parts of the world, in attendance.

The barbers who will be present at the Cream City are the best in the world and anything they may decide will be the last word on the subject under discussion. Sunday closing is certain to be taken up and the establishment of barber schools throughout the country also has seriously concerned the journeymen barbers who were compelled to spend several years learning their trade.

STRAIGHT FOOTBALL AGAINST TOMAHITES

Coach Doseff Will Save His Trick Plays for More Important Contests

In preparation for the Tomah football game which will be played next Saturday afternoon at the league base base park the local high school boys are practicing hard and by next Friday evening Coach Doseff hopes to have the fastest squad that has ever represented the high school together. No trick plays whatever will be used against Tomah as Mr. Doseff wishes to save these for the more important game with Eau Claire, Sparta and Winona. Straight football will be played entirely.

Although the team to represent the high school will be exceedingly fast it will not be the best eleven the coach can get together before the game Oct. 16th, as Fred Collins, end, and Ray Keeler tackle have had some trouble in regard to the inter-scholastic rules. These difficulties will be remedied by the end of the week however and next Monday night the squad will be greatly strengthened. The students of the high school hope for a victory over Tomah but a large score is not predicted.

GIVES NERVES REMARKABLE VIGOR

Electropodes, A Wonderful, Simple Device to Produce Astonishing Nerve Strength

How Any Man or Woman Can Get and Use Them

There is no more excuse for any man or woman suffering from nervous exhaustion, run-down condition, weak nerves, lack of ambition or energy. A wonderfully simple device, called Electropodes, is now designed to supply all the strength necessary to render the nerves strong and vigorous without having to resort to temporary stimulants, tonics or medicines of any kind.

Electropodes are not an experiment; that they produce results which can be quickly felt and even seen in an improved condition of the general system is the emphatic statement of those who have used them.

Electropodes represent a distinct advance in the application of electricity for the cure of diseases. They are reported to have a remarkable effect not only upon the nerves, but also upon the kidneys, stomach and liver, being an exceptional remedy for kidney troubles, stomach and liver derangements, neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, lumbago, insomnia and weak heart.

Electropodes are metallic insoles so placed in the heels of the shoes as to be unnoticeable to the wearer. By contact with the body it is stated they electrify and invigorate every fibre, organ, nerve, and blood vessel and the condition of the system quickly changes for the better.

Electropodes are never uncomfortable, yet you feel a mighty change and increased power creeping upon you.

To prove that these statements are not in the least exaggerated The Electropode Company, of Lima, Ohio, has your druggist sign a contract that if you are not satisfied with the Electropodes at the end of 30 days' trial, you can have your money right back.

Electropodes are sold at drug stores at $1.00 a pair under contract to satisfy you. If your druggist does not have Electropodes on hand, send your remittance to the Electropode Co., Suite 17 Holland Block, Lima, Ohio, and you will get them by return mail with our contract binding you to completely satisfy you within 30 days, or positively refund your money. CATHOLICS MUST USE OWN SCHOOLS

Bishop McFaul Warns Against Sacrilegious Teaching of Great Universities

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 6.—In announcing the annual collection for the benefit of the Catholic University of America, Bishop McFaul sent the following letter to all of the pastors of the diocese and it has been read in all the churches.

"In announcing the annual collection for the benefit of the Catholic University of America, let me draw the attention of the clergy and the laity to the dangers of patronizing non-Catholic institutions of learning. Every one knows that it has

- THE BIBLE NOT MORAL
- CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—"How can we teach total abstinence from a bible which represents Jesus as partaking of wine at feasts and which even tells how he miraculously produced wine from water on one occasion when the supply fell short."
- This is one of the statements in the leading editorials in the October number of the Biblical World issued from the University of Chicago press today. The editorial is unsigned but is attributed to Prof. Ernest D. Burton, of the University.

been repeatedly stated on the best authority that certain professors in our great secular universities deliver lectures calculated to submerge the Christian faith and Christian morality. They assert there is no God, at least as men heretofore conceived of him and no divinity given ten commandments; no church, and as for the bible, one must be freed from all slavery to the sacred myths which it contains.

"It is needless to say that the Christianity which these alleged scientific gentlemen attack, is not Christianity as expounded by the Catholic church. They build up a straw religion of their own and then take delight in knocking it down.

MAN BURIED ALIVE, MAY BE RECOVERED

CENTRAL ISLIP, L. I., Oct. 6.—John Coffin, the young Brooklyn man, who was entombed Saturday night when sand through which he was sinking a well, caved in, is still believed to be alive although covered with 80 feet of debris. The workmen who have been trying to make an opening down to the unfortunate man heard faint cries for help early today come from a two inch pipe which protruded from the well shaft. They pounded on the pipe in response and then redoubled their efforts to sink a new shaft so that Coffin can be extricated if possible. In the hope of reaching the unfortunate man with water and nourishment, an effort is to be made to send a small pipe through the debris and one has been ordered from New York. Sinking this pipe, however, will be extremely dangerous as driving it may shift the bits of board which are believed to be holding the earth off Coffin. It will be tried, however, as unless nourishment reaches him he will starve to death.

TWO ACCIDENTS IN ST. LOUIS GALA DAY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 5.—Two accidents marked the opening of the Centennial celebration of the incorporation of St. Louis Monday. Two trains collided in the river fog on the elevated structure along the bank of the Mississippi and a number of people were shaken up. Twelve were hurt in a crash of cars in East St. Louis.

Forty little balloons, six feet high, exact reproductions of the large gas bags, were cut loose from the Aero club grounds at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The little tramps are contenders in a real race, unpiloted, the one, traveling the greatest distance from St. Louis winning a cash prize for the firm entering it.

Ten huge racing balloons, two of 40,000 cubic feet capacity and eight of 80,000 cubic feet capacity, are ready for the start of what is expected to be two of the greatest long distance balloon contests ever held under the auspices of the Aero club of America, in connection with the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the city of St. Louis.

YOUNG FARMER BEATEN

CLARKSDALE, Mo., Oct. 5.—In full view of the congregation of a church here Miles Cockrum, a young farmer, was stripped and lashed by a committee of young men who furnished their victim with a list of their names and told him to have them arrested. Cockrum was said to have insulted the daughter of S. J. Springer. The assailants have been acquitted.

CURE FOLLOWED YEAR OF AGONY

Intense Itching Eczema Drove Him Nearly to Despair—Chief Surgeon of a London Hospital Called It Worst Case He Had Ever Seen—Got Little or No Relief Until

CUTICURA STOPPED HIS UNBEARABLE TORTURE

"About four years ago, in London, I was troubled by a severe itching and dry, scurfy skin on my ankles and feet. The same, in a few days, was the case with my arms and I could hardly keep from scratching, which, I need hardly say, made it worse. Then a large red patch appeared, with inflammation and soreness. After ten days, thousands of small red pimples formed. On becoming dry, these caused intense itching. I was advised to go to the hospital for diseases of the skin. I did so and was an out-patient for a month or more, the chief surgeon saying: 'I never saw such a bad case of eczema. But I got little or no relief. Then I tried many so-called remedies, but I became so bad that I almost gave up in despair. On coming to this country I heard so many accounts of cures by Cuticura Remedies that I resolved, as a last resource, to give them a trial. This was after suffering agonies for twelve months, and right glad am I that I did so, for I was relieved of the almost unbearable itching after two or three applications of Cuticura Ointment. I continued its use, combined with a liberal use of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Resolvent Pills and am more than thankful to say that after using three sets of the Remedies, I was completely cured. I can only add that, should any one be suffering as I did, I hope that they will do as I did, and I am sure of the results.' Henry Searle, 2022 Cross St., Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 8 and 10, 1907."

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK ss. Rochester, N. Y.
Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

OUR POLICE DEPARTMENT

Distasteful as comment upon our police department seems to be to its chief, The Tribune cannot recede from its position that police are servants of the public, that discussion of police
methods is of concern to the public,
and that citizens are entitled to full
and prompt information regarding the activities of the department.
Therefore, despite foolish talk to reporters about, "getting" police critics, we feel warranted in discussing certain phases of police management which are of particular interest to residents of La Crosse.

The Tribune discloses no secret
when it asserts that the La Crosse
police department does not make public crimes committed in this jurisdiction, unless the culprits are arrested.

Let us pause to consider two things: (1) The purpose of the secrecy; (2) The effect of the secrecy.

Never since John Webber became chief of the police has this sort of news been given out. La Crosse is probably the only city in the United States where it is not made public.
In most cities the police leave their records open to newspapers, and not only give the news when it is sought,
but call attention to crimes in case
they are being overlooked by reporters. If Chief Webber is asked why he does not divulge the news, he will say it is because the reporters cannot be trusted to handle it, and because to make it public would aid the thief in escaping.

As to the first of these alleged reasons, we have only to say that The Tribune has employed many competent police reporters, young men of good family, and that other local papers have done so, and we leave it to our readers whether these young men who have no trouble reporting criminal news from the office of the county sheriff at once become incompetent when they enter the police station.

As to the assertion that to publish the fact that a crime has been committed aids the criminal to escape
arrest, it is too apparently insincere
to deserve consideration.

Take the case of a burglary: The burglar knows he has committed a robbery. He knows the person robbed will know he is robbed at once. He knows the first thing the victim

will do is to tell the police. Therefore, the publication of the news
can do absolutely no harm. The suppression of news about the finding of clues is legitimate, and is not objected to by newspapers or public.

Not only is it a fact that to publish the news of a crime does not aid the criminal, but it is a positive fact that publication aids detection, because as soon as they read about a crime citizens note suspicious persons and circumstances and report them to the police. Often some incident that would otherwise have passed unnoticed creates suspicions
on the part of civilians which ultimately result in the apprehension of criminals.

So obvious are these facts that our readers must conclude that the police know them to be true. Why, then, this secrecy as to the commission of crimes?

Here's the answer: THE POLICE
SELDOM REPORT A CRIME UN-LESS THEY HAVE CAPTURED
THE CRIMINAL. THEN, IF THE CRIMINAL ESCAPES, NOBODY KNOWS IT AND THE DEPART-MENT GETS NO DISCREDIT FOR THE ESCAPE.

Isn't that a pretty scheme? Big story about the thief who is caught;
not a word about the thief who gets away. Heap fine record!

But what is the result? What does this playing to the galleries cost our citizens who pay policemen to protect them?

The result is that the police get no
help from the public, and therefore many criminals escape who might have been apprehended; that CITI-ZENS LIVE IN IGNORANCE OF
THE PRESENCE IN THE CITY OF
BURGLARS AND OTHER CROOKS,
AND CANNOT TAKE THE PRECAU-TIONS TO PROTECT THEIR HOMES THAT, FOREWARNED,
THEY WOULD CERTAINLY TAKE.

The taxpayers are entitled to the protection of publicity, and The Tribune assures them that they shall have it. We are making no war upon the police, but Mr. Webber's funny attempts to imitate his able predecessor, even in the matter of temper, is not all that is necessary
to make him indispensable as chief.
When he assumes a frenzied indignation because a newspaper publishes the news without his consent,
he mistakes the scope of his authority, and when he deceives the public about the existence of crime in the community he is recreant to his plain duty. It will profit him more to devise his efforts to proving that the La Crosse police force is not traveling upon the reputation it gained
during a former administration,
rather than to scolding reporters for the publication of news calculated to create the impression that the wholesome fear which made crooks fright shy of La Crosse during the life of Hugh H. Byrne no longer de-ters them from invading these precincts.

IT'S JUST AS WELL

The statement that there may be no special session to consider industrial insurance, water powers, bank guarantee and good roads, will not be intensely disappointing to the people of this state. They are aware that the present legislature is too thoroughly pro-monopoly to give the public a fair shake in the disposal of these important problems, and with the probability that the next legislature will be more progressive and representative, they are prepared to meet with equanimity the announcement that consideration of four great public questions must be delayed for another year.

There promises to be no letup this week in the polar controversy. Commander Peary has prepared an argument by which he expects to prove that he reached the pole, and that Cook did not, and this document may reach the public ere the end of the week.

La Crosse public school buildings
are to be named after great authors,
poets and statesmen. We would suggest the first one be named after that illustrious Wisconsin
statesman, Robert M. La Follette.

And now John Downs, the alderman, who took the leading part in the investigation of the police department, as a special meeting of the council several weeks ago, is ex-ultantly saying, "I told you so."

It having been announced that Mary Garden, prima donna of Salome fame, will take the veil, recollection of her stage appearance suggests the inadequacy of this addition to her wardrobe.

Who would have thought that the reduction of Night Sergeant Shell Post to the ranks would have such disastrous effect upon the south side
department.

SPOTLIGHTS

CHORUS GIRL HAS MASSEUR
Chorus girls have automobiles and poodle dogs and other luxuries but Pauline Yates of "The Red Mill"
company, which comes to La Crosse theater tomorrow night is the first
who has brought with her a masseur.

Miss Yates is not an ordinary chorus girl. She's an expert dancer, and she is kept busy at seven and eight performances a week, doing gymnastic work as strenuous as a ball player in a training camp.

She keeps in training all the time,
looks after diet as carefully as a prizefighter, and has "rubdowns" regularly after her hard work.

GOLDEN GIRL FRIDAY

It seems to be with the musical shows as with the song hits of the day; most of them kill themselves,
some are forgotten and others linger
like the last flowers of autumn. "The Golden Girl," like all the Singer shows, has proved to be made of different material, for after running for a full season in Chicago, playing in crowded houses at every performance it has now distinguished itself
on the road by doing capacity business everywhere and receiving the most laudatory criticisms from both
the press and public in every city visited.

The secret of the long life and pronounced success of this musical comedy is due to the fact that it possesses every attribute required to make this kind of entertainment pleasing to all classes. It is written on clean, sane lines with none of the sly, doubtful, ambiguous and objectionable features which makes one hesitate taking his sister, mother or sweetheart to witness it. It is full of rhyme and laughter; therefore,
it is lastingly popular.

Another thing that marks the longevity of the Singer productions is the fact that cannot be denied that Manager Singer furnishes his road productions with the same expensive equipment, capable cast and big beautiful chorus as is seen in Chicago where the plays have their premiere.

After witnessing the cavortings of some of the so-called musical comedies under the personal stage direction of that master hand, Ned Way-burn, the theatergoer finds genuine delight in witnessing a performance
of such attractions as "The Golden Girl" and other successes sent out by this firm of musical comedy purveyors for their pieces run like a finely regulated clock instead of swinging idly to and fro like the corner sign of an ale-house. La Crosse Theater

STORY OF "PAID IN FULL"

Joe Brooks believed the world owed him more than an $18 a week clerkship. Bitterness distorted his view of all things. To him the conditions that rules his destiny were awry. He coveted wealth, first for himself, in lesser degree that his young wife might be lifted above privation. Until marriage Emma Brooks had been accustomed to luxury. In the altered circumstances her chosen part was to cheer her husband, a part that falls to many young wives
who bear it nobly. Emma Brooks' taste failed. Joe became a thief. He stole money he collected for a steamship company whose president was Capt.
Williams, rough, unpolished, hard ruling men now that he was rich and powerful as he had ruled them in that early school on the deck of a South Pacific trader, when mercy
was a menace and brutality alone was effective. Williams, shrewd in discerning human weakness, had mis-tried his collector and he set a trap into which Joe fell. Detected in theft, Joe saw but one chance to escape prison. It was for his wife to purchase his freedom from Williams.
He taxed Emma with responsibility for dishonesty, told her it was for her sake he stole. He drove her to visit Williams, alone, at night, urging her to accede to any terms that might be demanded by the man who boasted of his purchase of women. Though understanding the sacrifice to which her husband willingly offered her, she had no intention of yielding. Nor was it required. With a touch of chivalry until then undisclosed in the man's nature, Williams showed his underlying admiration for a good woman,
his loyalty to a man he esteemed. He had planned from the first to expose Joe so as to disillusion his wife, that she might know him for the weakling he was, and see the greater worth of "Jimsey" her suitor before marriage, her steadfast friend
throughout.

Do you know this story? It is the powerful entertaining story in Eugene Walter's "Paid in Full" the story that in its admirable telling
makes the greatest and the most popular comedy drama of the time, the leading success of the stage today.

It will be at the La Crosse Theater
Saturday, Oct. 9 under exceptionally noteworthy circumstances, for the Wagenhals & Kamper company will present it with the magnificent New York cast.

LOST CASE INVOLVING $75,000

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 6.—Lillie E.
Haskell, wife of Gov. Chas. N. Haskell of Oklahoma, lost her case in the supreme court of Ohio to recover $75,000 worth of collateral securities from the Columbus Savings and Trust company. They had been put up by Haskell several years ago to secure a loan in connection with his Texas telephone enterprise. Mrs. Haskell claimed the bonds and stocks
in question belonged to her and not to the governor. The courts held that even if Mrs. Haskell owned the securities held that even if Mrs. Haskell owned the securities her husband
acted as her agent in negotiating the loan from the bank.

Quips and Cranks
and Wanton Wiles

Fish-erman's Luck
ONCE:
I saw a man with a rod go away
To a lot of reeds where the fishes
play;
He caught six bass in as many flings
But it never would work for me, by Jing!

TWICE:
I saw another, upon my soul,
Who dropped right into a rich pike
hole;
He cast and dragged and caught eight pike—
But I never have happened to do the like!

THRICE:
I saw a man on the crotch bar
Where supposedly many fishes are;
He caught his fish both early and late,
While a yellow perch embezzled my bait!

PRICE:
And a lesser sport fished close to shore
And caught thirty-eight sunfish or more;
But a dogfish grabbed my hook with
a leer
And gurgled: "O, Percival, look who's here!"

LASTLY
And so I've sworn, by Walton's
beard,
And by all the gods that the ancients
feared,
That when next I go on the shore,
bound main
I'll fish my fish with a lawless seine.

False Economy

John D. Rockefeller, ere he adopted the policy of silence, said one day
to a reporter:

"Young men must not think that I advocate miserly habits. Economy I advocate of course; but wise spending I advocate, too. The miser, laying nothing out, can never advance."

"In fact the miser has no better understanding of economy than little Tommy Wetherill of Cleveland has.
"Tommy listened to a lesson on economy from his father one day. He learned that nothing good or whole was ever to be thrown away, and so forth, and that evening he came in to supper swinging by the tail a fragrant dead cat.

"Look, father," he said. "Look what I found on the dump—a perfectly good cat that somebody throwed
away."—Washington Star.

Who Esau Was

One of the class in a certain Sunday school of Hartford is a lad whose father is a publisher.
During one lesson, touching certain Biblical characters this boy was asked:

"Who was Esau?"
After a moment's reflection the youngster offered this unique answer:

"Esau was the man that wrote the book of fables. He sold it to Messrs.
Pottage."—New York Herald.

Exercise and Food

"What do you want?" demanded
Mr. Newlywed, as he confronted the tramp at the door of the bungalow.
"breakfast or work?"

"Both, sir," replied the wayfarer,
timidly.

"Well, eat that!" returned the other, savagely, handing out a biscuit and piece of steak, "and you'll have both."

Let Us Hope So

Thrown from her luxurious limou-

bled in the low, weak voice.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings
That No La Crosse Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick.
Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-
smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you
of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure
them permanently. Here's La Crosse
proof:

Thomas Raper, 1626 Winnebago St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "About nine years ago signs of kidney trouble made their appearance as rapidly that I was unable to work. My back became so weak and lame that I dared not stoop and the pain
through my kidneys was most intense. I had but little control over the passages of the kidney secretions
and was in a bad shape when Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention. I procured a supply at Erhart's drug store and was entirely relieved. No remedy ever helped me so much as Doan's Kidney Pills
and I willingly endorse them."

ed States.

He ceased speaking, realizing that what he might have said to Ard-
more was not germane to the point at issue. His responsibility for the life and security of Governor Osborne of the sovereign state of South Carolina was at an end, and he was entering upon a social chat with Governor Osborne's daughter. Some such thought must have passed through her mind, too, for she straightened herself in her chair and dropped the point of her parasol to the floor. The young man before her, who held his hat and gloves so quietly and who spoke with so nice
a deference in a voice so musical,
was beyond question a gentleman,
and he had stopped at Columbia to render her father a service. There was no reason why she should not hear what he had said to his friend
at Atlanta.

"What had you been saying, Mr.
Griswold?"

"Oh, really nothing after all! I'm ashamed of it now! But he's the most amusing person, with nothing to do but to keep himself amused. We discuss many daring projects, but we are never equal to them. I had just been telling him that we were incapable of action; that while we plan
our battles the foe is already breaking down the outer defenses and beating in the gates. You see, we are both very ridiculous at times,
and we talk that sort of idiosyncrasy
to keep up our spirits. And having believed my friend for his irresolution,
I seized the first opportunity to prove my own capacity for meeting emergencies. The man flattered me with the assumption that I was the governor of South Carolina, and I weakly fell."

Distress was again written in Miss Osborne's face. She had paid little heed to the latter half of Griswold's
recital, though she kept her eyes fixed gravely upon him. In a moment the gentleman in blue serge
who had manifested so much feeling
over the governor's absence strode
again into the room.

"Ah, Miss Osborne, so you are back!"

He bowed over the girl's hand with a great deal of manner, then glanced
at once toward the door of the private office.

"Hasn't your father come in yet?
I have been looking for him since eight o'clock."

"My father is not home yet, Mr.
Bosworth."

"Not home! Do you mean to say that he won't be here today?"

"I hardly expect him," replied the girl calmly. "Very likely he will be at home tonight or in the morning."

Griswold had walked away out of hearing; but he felt that the girl purposely raised her voice so that he might hear what she said.

"I must know where he is; there's an important matter waiting—a very serious matter it may prove for him
if he isn't here today to pass on it.
I must wire him at once."

"Very good. You had better do so, Mr. Bosworth. He's at the Peach Tree Club, Atlanta."

"Atlanta! Do you mean to say that he isn't even in this state today?"

"No, Mr. Bosworth, and I advise you to telegraph him immediately if your business is so urgent."

"It isn't my business, Barbara; it's the state's business; it's your father's business, and if he isn't here to attend to it by tomorrow at the latest,
it will go hard with him. He has enemies who will construe his absence as meaning."

He spoke rapidly, with rising anger, but some gesture from the girl
arrested him, and he turned frowningly to see Griswold calmly intent
upon an engraving at the further end of the room. The colored woman was dozing in her chair. Before Bosworth could resume, the girl spoke, her voice again raised so that every word reached Griswold.

"If you refer to the Appleweight case, I must tell you, Mr. Bosworth, that I have all confidence that my father will act whenever he sees fit."

"But the people—"
"My father is not afraid of the people," said the girl quietly.

"But you don't understand, Barbara, how much is at stake here. If some action isn't taken in that matter within twenty-four hours, your father will be branded as a coward
by every newspaper in the state. You seem to take it pretty coolly, but it won't be a trifling matter for him."

"I believe," replied the girl, rising,
"that you have said all that I care
to hear from you now or at any

RAIL CHANGES NOT EFFECTIVE IN CITY

Changes in the operating departments which are of interest of railroad men employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway here, have been announced from the general offices of the road.

It is also rumored that some important changes are about to be made in the general offices, and the rumors are said to be based on good authority. A. J. Earling, the president of the road, is to become chairman of the board of directors, to succeed Roswell Miller, who will retire from the more active business of the company. This will take Mr. Earling from Chicago to the New York office of the company. He is to be succeeded as president by H. R. Williams, who is at present president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railway at Seattle, which position he will continue to fill.

These changes have not yet been officially announced but it is stated that they have been definitely decided upon. At the regular meeting of the board of the company recently held at Milwaukee, Wis., Roswell Miller was re-elected chairman, but it is understood that he will now resign and that Mr. Earling will take his place.

It has been officially announced by the company, that D. L. Bush has been appointed general manager of the Milwaukee to succeed W. J. Underwood, who has resigned his position on account of ill health. It is understood that Mr. Underwood will go on a leave of absence for some time before returning to his work. Mr. Bush will be succeeded as general superintendent of the Milwaukee system by H. B. Earling, at present superintendent of the Pacific coast extension line.

No changes which affect the officials of the Milwaukee road at this point have been made by the operating officials at Chicago.

KNIGHTS ENJOY SOCIAL EVENING

Following the regular lodge work the members of the John P. Linton Lodge No. 27, K. of P., enjoyed a smoker and entertainment last night. The famous Scott company, sleight of hand performers, entertained the members for several hours, their work being greeted with hearty appreciation and much applause.

It was expected that rank work would be done at last night's meeting, but this was postponed.

WELL KNOWN PAIR WILL WED TONIGHT

Tonight at the German Lutheran church, the marriage of Miss Adeline Heinke and Henry Kinder, two well known North side young people, will be celebrated. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Bergholz. The groom-to-be is a very popular barber on the North side.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL OPENS

La Crosse County Agricultural school will open next Monday with twice as large an attendance as any other state agricultural school. Sessions will be from 8:45 until 4 p. m. The average age of students is about 17 years and there will be nearly 150 entered. The dedication will be arranged for November.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bryant left today for a visit with friends at Milwaukee.

CHILDREN SHOWED IT Effect of Their Warm Drink in the Morning.

"A year ago I was a wreck from coffee drinking and was on the point of giving up my position in the school room because of nervousness. I was telling a friend about it, and she said, 'We drink nothing at meal time but Postum, and it is such a comfort to have something we can enjoy drinking with the children.'"

"I was astonished that she would allow the children to drink any kind of coffee, but she said Postum was the most healthful drink in the world for children as well as for older ones, and that the condition of both the children and adults showed that to be a fact."

"My first trial was a failure. The cook boiled it four or five minutes and it tasted so flat that I was in despair but determined to give it one more trial. This time we followed the directions and boiled it fifteen minutes after the boiling began. It was a decided success and I was completely won by its rich delicious flavor. In a short time I noticed a decided improvement in my condition and kept growing better and better month after month, until now I am perfectly healthy, and do my work in the school room with ease and pleasure. I would not return to the nerve-d-stroking regular coffee for any money."

FOUR-CLUB LEAGUE OF BOWLERS FORMED

Enthusiasts Meet at the Combination Alleys Last Night for the Coming Winter

OTTO LEE IS PRESIDENT

Plan to Have Six Clubs Is Postponed Until More Bowlers Join the Movement

At a meeting of the bowlers of the North side held last evening at the Combination Bowling Alleys on Caledonia street, a league of four clubs was organized. It was found that there were bowlers enough but for five teams, and as it was impossible to have a five team league, some of the bowlers were held over as substitutes, in the other four teams it was the original plan of the bowlers to have a six-team organization, and it is their plan to organize two more teams before the season is well started.

Another meeting will be held tomorrow evening, when a schedule of the games for the ensuing season will be arranged. The first game will be bowled at the alleys next Monday evening.

Otto Lee President.

The election of officers was to have occurred last evening, but for some reason only a president was chosen, the honor falling to Otto Lee. It is the intention of the organization to bowl with the South side teams and also with out of town clubs during the winter.

Following are the teams and their personnel:

Team No. 1—F. Zoeller, S. Spoonick, C. Freng, H. Whittenberg and J. Ritter.

Team No. 2—E. Getts, F. Klawitter, W. Fries, W. Bonadurer and E. Stender.

Team No. 3—E. Yehle, E. Houser, C. Swanson, C. Jenks, A. Yehle and J. Miller.

Team No. 4—H. Paulson, Joseph Gilbert, Ed. Betzel, Joseph Voyes, F. Borud and Otto Lee.

WRIGHTS NOT TO BE THE SIDESHOW

Will Make No More Flights for Purposes—Expect the Mauretania of the Air in a Century

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—"I do not think I shall ever again take part in a flying meet for money," declared Wilbur Wright, the Dayton aviator, whose marvelous flight Monday around Grant's Tomb, is regarded as the most spectacular ever made in America.

"My brother and I are not in the sideshow business. We are making a serious study of the airship."

This comment was elicited from Wright when he was asked if he would accept any of the fabulous offers made to him by managers who believed that he could be induced to make flights for them now that he had flown in New York.

"I regarded this New York flight as a different proposition," he went on. "One hundred years ago, Fulton built his first steamboat. It was a toy compared to the giant Mauretania of today but it was from the tiny Clermont that the Mauretania grew. My brother and myself regard our experiments as in the same state as Fulton's steamboat—in its infancy. I wanted to take part in this celebration and thus pay my respects to the man who had the nerve to build the first steamboat."

"Do you think the next hundred years will see the Mauretania of the skies?" Wright was asked.

"Who knows?" he replied. "I am awfully sorry I had to disappoint the people of New York," declared Wright when he saw that the cylinder head of his motor had been blown off by a "back fire," when he was preparing for an "unofficial flight" yesterday afternoon.

"But," he added, "I am mighty glad this accident happened on the ground. The accident taught me a lesson and that is that until motors are perfected, we will have no perfect airship. My airships are all right but my motors are not. I hope the day will soon come when we have a perfect motor."

It is said Wright will receive the sum he was to have been paid by the Hudson-Fulton commission as he made an honest effort to fly and did make a flight he had refused to contract for.

Wright left here for Washington to resume his school of instruction for army officers.

THE LEEK-CRAWFORD SCANDAL AGAIN UP

ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 6.—In spite of the efforts to lay the ghost of the Leek-Lavender-Crawford affair, which has stirred up so much trouble in the Methodist churches of Chicago, the Rock River conference of the M. E. church decided yesterday to hold an executive session and investigate the whole row.

The decision was made after a personal appeal to the conference by Rev. E. B. Crawford of the Woodlawn Park M. E. church, Chicago, who, as confessor of Mrs. Mary Lavender, was accused of having made public her alleged confession of indiscreet conduct with Rev. John D. Leek, then pastor of the Western Avenue M. E. church, Chicago.

Number three on the program, the Great Svingali & Co., in their demonstration of telepathy, or the transmission of thought from one person to another, at both shows last evening answered many difficult questions, showing beyond a doubt his wonderful and mysterious powers of thought transmission. During Svingali's stay in the city any person wishing to ask confidential questions on love, business or lost articles can give Svingali their questions during his act, and he will leave the answers at the box office, where they can be called for.

Few people last evening dreamed that B. Aarons, the writer of the beautiful illustrated song, "The Dearest Mother of All," was sitting in the audience listening to Ambrose Coughlin's beautiful rendition of his favorite song.

Ed Dunkhorst, the 430 pound baby in the comedy sketch, "Mamma's Cry Baby," is easily the feature act this week. His enormous size as he walks out on the stage dressed like a ten-year-old baby brought down the house. Little Eddie is a good mimic and his support is also good. Ed is also a good story teller and this one was told the writer yesterday: "I was sitting in the stage entrance of a theater in Kansas City dressed for my act, when a farmer goes by and stopping, he sizes me up and down, and says, 'Say, Mister, you must weigh right onto 400 pounds.' I said, 'Well, I guess I go some better than that!' The farmer looked me over again and said, 'Gosh, not to me—I've raised too many of 'em.' Since that time I stick inside of the theater."

CORN EXHIBIT MOST VALUABLE

La Crosse Tribune:

As your paper is taken largely among the farmers of La Crosse county and adjoining localities I wish to say a few words especially to the younger farmers on the recent corn exhibit at the Interstate fair.

It was one of unusual value as in quality it has never been excelled in the state. The fourteen hundred ears of almost perfect corn shown was worth thousands of dollars to corn growers who attended the fair.

Wisconsin No. 7 and 8 Salzer's Sunshine and Van's Blue Ribbon which captured a good prize at the Omaha exhibition were shown in great shape, when other corn growing states come to Wisconsin for seed corn as they did last year, it testifies to the value of the work being done by Prof. Moore of the state university and his assistants along the line of improvement. The value of this exhibit to the farmers of this county and to those of sister states, Iowa and Minnesota, who saw it, can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents if they only continue to make experiments and improve their seed corn. Those who began experimenting two or three years ago and bought back their exhibits last year, were found in the front ranks of the winners this year. Mr. Nuttleman of Bostwick Valley had his attention called to the value of the new varieties at Madison two or three years ago, and owing to the interest he took in it, he has this year 45 acres of very fine corn of the Wisconsin No. 7. This variety being well supplied with leaves makes it valuable for silage purposes. The directors and officers of the fair can well feel proud of the exhibit for in value to the county if farmers followed it up it more than equals the entire cost of the fair to date. And this is but one item—for when we take into consideration the value of the various exhibits where farmers can see stock as good as is shown anywhere in the United States it makes the fair worthy of the attendance of every farmer in the county. As I understand the prize winning exhibits are to be sold at auction Saturday, Oct. 9th, in this city. I hope all farmers who are interested in corn improvement will be present to secure some of the best specimens for a start.

HEALTH OFFICER WEDS LOCAL GIRL

Anton M. Murphy and Miss Emma Anderson Married by Rev. Condon This Morning

At St. Mary's church this morning at 7 o'clock, Miss Emma Anderson and Anton M. Murphy were united in marriage by the Rev. Father Condon. The young couple departed on the 7:55 Northwestern train for Chicago, where they will remain for a week's honeymoon after which they will return to La Crosse and begin housekeeping in the new home now being furnished for them.

The ceremony was private, only intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom being present. Miss Daisy Cawley of this city was bridesmaid and John Murphy, a brother of the groom served as best man.

Miss Anderson is a popular young lady of La Crosse who has for the past twelve years been associated with Sherman's department at the Doerflinger store. She has a large circle of friends in La Crosse to whom the announcement of her unannounced marriage comes as an agreeable surprise. Mr. Murphy is the city health officer and is well known and popular.

SCOTCH WOMEN IN SPLENDID FORM

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Marvelous golf on the part of Miss Dorothy Campbell and Miss Teacher, both of North Berwick, Scotland, was the feature of the play yesterday in the women's national golf championship on the Merion golf links at Haverford. Miss Campbell playing under bogey defeated Mrs. McKelvey 9 up and 8 to play, while Miss Teacher beat Miss Shreve, 7 up and 6 to play.

Summaries:

Miss Campbell defeated Mrs. McKelvey, 10 up and 8 to play.

Miss Teacher defeated Miss Shreve, 7 up and 6 to play.

Mrs. E. H. Fitzler defeated Miss Temple, 7 up and 6 to play.

Miss Griscom defeated Mrs. Roome 7 up and 6 to play.

Mrs. Stout defeated Miss Anita Phipps, 4 up and 3 to play.

Mrs. Robaid Barton defeated Miss Dallett, 7 up and 6 to play.

Mrs. Caleb Fox defeated Miss Margaret Curtis, 2 up and 1 to play.

Miss Llewellyn defeated Miss Bishop, 2 up.

Miss Adams defeated Miss Harley, the title holder, 2 up.

Miss Temple defeated Mrs. Lefters, 1 up.

Miss Phelps defeated Mrs. Colburn, 7 up and 6 to play.

Miss McCain defeated Miss Spence, 7 up and 5 to play.

AT THE BIJOU.

The after-fair-week performance at the Bijou brought out two large audience Monday evening, the show was up to the standard maintained by this theater. The crazy and original May Day opened the bill and his original apple juggling with the assistance of the audience, was the funniest piece of juggling ever attempted at the Bijou. He closed his act with his blindfolded barrel jump called "suicide," a very clever trick.

Sylvester and Vance, a comedy sing and talking act, were next on the program and as this team has splendid voices they were obliged to respond to several encores. Miss Vance is of very pleasing stage appearance and as most of their jokes were new, they made a very favorable impression on their audience last evening.

Number three on the program, the Great Svingali & Co., in their demonstration of telepathy, or the transmission of thought from one person to another, at both shows last evening answered many difficult questions, showing beyond a doubt his wonderful and mysterious powers of thought transmission. During Svingali's stay in the city any person wishing to ask confidential questions on love, business or lost articles can give Svingali their questions during his act, and he will leave the answers at the box office, where they can be called for.

Few people last evening dreamed that B. Aarons, the writer of the beautiful illustrated song, "The Dearest Mother of All," was sitting in the audience listening to Ambrose Coughlin's beautiful rendition of his favorite song.

Ed Dunkhorst, the 430 pound baby in the comedy sketch, "Mamma's Cry Baby," is easily the feature act this week. His enormous size as he walks out on the stage dressed like a ten-year-old baby brought down the house. Little Eddie is a good mimic and his support is also good. Ed is also a good story teller and this one was told the writer yesterday: "I was sitting in the stage entrance of a theater in Kansas City dressed for my act, when a farmer goes by and stopping, he sizes me up and down, and says, 'Say, Mister, you must weigh right onto 400 pounds.' MUST PAY POLICY
Effort of Chicago Concern to Avoid Bakalars Payment Fails in the Supreme Court

Local attorneys fared well in the decisions handed down by the supreme court at Madison yesterday. Attorneys W. F. and A. C. Wolfe won two favorable decisions from the body, the most notable case being that of Mrs. Rose Bakalars, of this city against the Continental Casualty company, Chicago.

Mrs. Bakalars sued for the payment of a policy held by her son, John T. Bakalars, who was killed while performing his duties as brakeman for the Great Northern road at La Crosse, N. D. The company refused payment on the grounds that the young man was intoxicated at the time of the fatal accident and that he was willingly exposed himself to danger. The case was tried twice in circuit court, the plaintiff receiving the decision in both cases. The defendant charged an error in instructing the jury, but finally lost out before the supreme court.

The case of Martin Bekkedahl vs. the village of Westby and Anton Olson also resulted favorably for attorneys Wolfe and Wolfe, who appeared for the plaintiff.

MCKINLEY HAS IT EASIER THAN EVER

Grand Jury Failed to Mention His Case and U. S. Marshal Orders New Liberties

A special telegram to The Tribune from Portland, Oregon, this morning, says, although United States Marshal C. J. Reid was hailed before the grand jury to tell why he allows Horace Greely McKinley, the noted land fraud convict, so much liberty while that individual is serving his sentence in the county jail, the grand jury in its final report failed to mention the matter.

In the meantime Marshal Reid has ordered Sheriff R. L. Stevens to allow the prisoner still further liberty. His jail sentence expires November 6. Dr. A. C. Pantan examined McKinley several weeks ago at Marshal Reid's order and reported him anemically inclined. The marshal thereupon allowed McKinley an hour and a quarter every day in which to take a steam bath in a bathroom across the street from the jail.

Although a trusty, McKinley does not have to work. His wife, Marie Ware McKinley, may visit him any time.

WATER COMMITTEE HELPLESS; BROKE

The water committee held a meeting at the city hall last evening and after looking over the ground decided that they would have no report to make at the meeting of the council Friday evening. Chairman Tarbox stated today that the committee is still tied hand and foot because of lack of money. They have decided to hold the matter over for at least three months.

The meeting of the streets and alleys committee which was called for last evening was canceled because of the lack of anything to do. No report will be made to the council Friday evening.

The judiciary committee has a few personal tax claims which they will undoubtedly report on. Outside of this the committee has not reported to make.

SOCIETY

MARRIAGE OF MISS WAGNER AND MR. HARLEY W. SCHAEFFER

Miss Eleanor Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wagner of 1828 Kane street, and Mr. Harley Watson Schaeffer of Chicago were quietly married this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the parsonage of St. James church. Rev. Henderson officiated.

Only relatives and a few intimate friends were present. After the ceremony a three course dinner was served at the home of the bride. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schaeffer, parents of the groom, and Carl Schaeffer, of Rock Island brother of the groom, Fred Wagner of St. Paul, brother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Smith of McGregor, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaeffer left on the evening train for the Twin cities, where they will spend part of their honeymoon. They will take a trip on the lakes and go to Cedar Rapids, Rock Island and Chicago, where they will be at home at 6519 Yale avenue, after Oct. 17.

The bride is a popular north side young woman. The groom is the son of ex-Mayor Schaeffer of Rock Island and is employed in the freight claim department of the C. R. I. and Pacific R. R.

20TH CENTURY CLUB

The Twentieth Century club was entertained by Mrs. J. G. Schweizer, 1402 Madison street, Tuesday afternoon.

The interest in the subject to be studied during the winter was again manifested by a large attendance. The lesson, "Revolutionary Painters," John Trumbull and Washington Allston," was in charge of Mrs. Kleeber, assisted by Mrs. Pamperin, Mrs. Hirschheimer, Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. Tollefson and Mrs. Noble.

By request Mrs. Van Auker read a paper on the artist Trumbull, which she had read before a club some years ago.

Miss Mathews of the high school presented the needs of a physical instructor for the girls of the high school in a convincing manner and requested the assistance and cooperation of the club in securing one. Roll call was responded to by interesting current events and made every member feel that the time of closing came all too soon.

Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Russell were appointed delegates to the state convention of Federated Women's clubs to be held at Waukesha the latter part of the month.

CLOVER BLOSSOM CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown of 1032 Redfield street, entertained the Clover Blossom club last evening. Progressive euchre was played. The first prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Will Justin, the second to Mrs. A. Kimball and Mr. C. E. Forsyth, and the consolation to Mrs. C. E. Forsyth and Mr. Kimball. Delicious refreshments were served and all spent a most delightful evening.

The next meeting will be Oct. 19 at the home of Mrs. A. Kimball 1121 Park avenue.

ASPHALT PAVING ON KING FAILURE

Cold Stones and Hot Composition Won't Mix Into a Permanent Road Bed

CITY SEEMS UP AGAINST IT

Street Closed a Month and Officials Know of No Way Out of the Dilemma

The city has no idea of starting a menagerie but it is starting out with an elephant of large proportions in the King street paving job, which for a month has closed that street from Fifth to Ninth streets and which is in no prospect of completion this year.

As an experiment the city decided to lay three blocks with stone, granite top dressing, coated with an asphalt mixture. It is claimed the La Crosse stone company was several weeks behind with its contract, and that when the crushed rock was finally in place the cool weather had set in and it was impossible to pour the hot asphalt over the cold stones and form a binder which would fasten the new street properly to the old macadam. A layer of sand had been put on the old street under the stone and with all the street rollers available it was found the stone was pushed along ahead of the roller and would not pack. From prior experience of others it was learned that when an effort was made to make an asphalt street upon cold stone, the asphalt would congeal and that it could be lifted like a rug from the street when completed and would be broken up like pie-crust should a wagon run over it. Plans and specifications were made up by City Engineer George Bradish, but those in charge assert that Mr. Bradish is not to be held at fault in the matter, as the approach of cold weather made the job an impossibility whereas it might have been feasible during hot weather when the melted asphalt would run between the stones, through the sand and form a binder. It was also suggested that had the workmen mixed dry cement with the underlying sand (then wet the street down, the old macadam having been roughened prior that a binder for the street would have been thus formed.

Solution a Problem

As it is at present it seems practically impossible to do anything at all with the street, and the board and city engineer is in a quandary as to what shall be done to permit traffic through the blocked streets while they are finding a solution for the proposition. Asphalt is extremely hard to handle even under best conditions, say experts, and at this time of the year it is practically impossible to handle it at all with favorable results.

It is probable that it will be necessary to have all of the stone and granite removed from the street, the sand taken off, and the job finished up in some sort of temporary fashion until next summer, when the pavement can be relaid with the asphalt top dressing, after a satisfactory binder has been arranged for the upper coating.

Seek To Avoid Patents

In its undertaking on King street the city is attempting to avoid certain patents covering the use of asphalt. The patents cover the mixing of the asphalt, sand and stone before it is laid. City Engineer Bradish is undertaking to lay the sand and stone first and apply the asphalt afterward, thus avoiding the patent, but in order to have been successful this would have to be accomplished in hot weather when the sun warmed the bed to high temperature for the receiving of the application of the composition.

Board Seeks Means

The board of public works is meeting this afternoon for the purpose of finding means for the permanent improvement of the street without the asphalt. It is likely the stone and granite will be mixed with concrete and relaid at once.

GALESVILLE LAD CRUSHED TO DEATH

A sad accident occurred at Galesville yesterday afternoon when Raleigh Turnbull, a young man of sixteen years of age was instantly killed at the farm of Theodore Larson. While the threshing outfit was pulling out of the field into the main road down a grade, the coupling pin which fastened the separator to the engine broke letting the huge separator drop onto the young man who was sitting on the tool box of the engine crushing him into eternity. The rest of the crew escaped injury only by the tongue running into the ground and stopping the machine.

Raleigh Turnbull was the oldest of a family of three. His father, Walter is one of the prominent men of that vicinity and the many friends which he leaves will miss him.

OLD RESIDENT DIES AT ADVANCED AGE

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 5.—(Special.)—One of Tomah's old and highly respected pioneers passed away last Saturday morning, Oct. 2, at 6 o'clock, the funeral taking place Monday at 2 o'clock from the Congregational church of this city, Rev. Jonathan G. Smith officiating.

Susan Ann Packard was born in Brockton, Mass., March 21, 1836, and in 1854 moved to Lyndon, Wis., with her parents. In 1851 she was married to Elijah D. Doten. Two children were born to them, Addie I. and Clarence D., the former dying in infancy. They moved to Tomah in 1866, Mrs. Doten dying in 1880. Since that she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. C. H. Stevens.

She has always lived a devoted Christian life, uniting with the Congregational church in Brockton, Mass., while young. For past years she has suffered from paralysis and death came as a relief.

Infant Passes Away

The infant daughter of Mr. Fred Robinson of this city little Marjorie May, aged two years and five months, passed away Sunday morning after a lingering sickness. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home, Rev. Jonathan G. Smith of the Congregational church officiating, interment taking place at Oak Grove cemetery.

PRESIDENT LAUGHS AT SPOKANE PLEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 6.—Treating the issues of conversation and irrigation seriously but ridiculing the actions of the recent conservation congress at Spokane, Wn., President Taft delivered a speech at a banquet at the Fairmont hotel last night which has created widespread comment here today. The president ridiculed the plea for four billions of bonds.

Another expression in the president's speech commented on today was:

"When the Filipinos are fit for self government neither they nor the people of the United States will want them to sever relations from the United States. I expect to see them bear the same relation to us that Australia and Canada do to England."

HOMESEEKERS GOING WEST

ABERDEEN, S. D., Oct. 6.—Railroads report thousands of homeseekers on their way in special trains from their homes in the middle western states to seek a farm in the draw in South Dakota.

Total figures for the first two days are: Aberdeen, 6,287; Pierre, 1,488; Bismarck, 1,283; Mobridge, 369; Lemmon, 381; Lebeau, 350. Total 10,158.

WIFE'S GEMS IN DUBUQUE

Proprietor of Hotel Law
Thinks Release of Dubuque Suspects
Premature

"Publicity is the only thing," said John F. Walsh, proprietor of the Hotel Law last evening when discussing the policy of the police department of suppressing the news of crimes committed in this city. Mr. Walsh intimated that it was his opinion that many of the crimes committed in La Crosse during the past fortnight are the work of the same gang of crooks, and he expresses the opinion that if the public had been informed of the diamond robbery suffered by his wife, public sentiment would have been so aroused as to make police vigilance so necessarily strict as to prevent the Lutz fur robbery and other crimes.

Mr. Walsh was shown the description of the man who attempted to pawn a diamond with Charles B. Stevens, which fact appeared exclusively in The Tribune last night, and it corresponded exactly with the description of the man who was temporarily detained by the police at Dubuque, but he said that he was unable to place the thief, inasmuch as there were but three regular guests at his hotel when the jewels disappeared, the remainder being transients. There were at least a half dozen who could come under the description given by Mr. Stevens, as well as he could recollect, although Mr. Walsh admitted that if he had had this description immediately he might have been able to identify the thief.

Mr. Walsh is of the opinion that the release of the Dubuque suspects was premature and that there may have been some connection between the gems they offered for sale and the diamonds stolen from his wife.

SPAIN OUSTS MAN WHO KNOWS TOO MUCH

CERBERE, France, Oct. 6.—Former Minister of the French Navy Pelletan is today enroute to Cerbere from Spain under an escort of Spanish guards. Pelletan is leaving Spain under an order of expulsion issued by the Spanish interior department because of the Frenchman's publication in the Paris Matin of an article attacking the Spanish priesthood.

GIRL SOCIALIST HAS GREAT FOLLOWING

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 6.—Headed by Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, a pretty little socialist of New York's East side, and now organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, a mob of 2,000 threatened the Missoula county jail last night demanding the release of 25 members of the order who had been arrested while conducting a demonstration on the streets.

FLIES KILL 12 PERSONS

MARSEILLES, Oct. 6.—The death of two men and a woman today makes a total of 12 victims of a poisonous fly which has afflicted the city for a month past. Hundreds have undergone terrible suffering from the bite of the insect which from what the authorities can learn was brought here originally in the cargo of a Central American fruit vessel and has multiplied rapidly.

RAIL COMMISSION HERE OCTOBER 14

The state railway commission will be in La Crosse Thursday, October 14, and will hold a session at the La Crosse city hall to take up the matter of the Mill street crossing and the Hackner sidetrack. The meeting will be open and all who are interested in the track will be invited to be present.

Attorney C. L. Baldwin, who appeared before the commission at Madison in opposition to the proposed spur track, was notified of the above decision this morning.

EIGHTEEN DEAD TAKEN FROM MINE

LADYSMITH, B. C., Oct. 6.—Thirty-four men are today known to be dead as the result of the explosion at the Extension Mine No. 2 of the Wellington Colliery company. Eighteen bodies have been recovered but it may be a week before the others are brought out of the burning mine, although rescue parties are working constantly.

PEARY'S MAN FRIDAY HAPPY AT BANQUET

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Matt Hensen, Commander Peary's "Man Friday," and the only negro to reach the north pole, is today the happiest black in the world, for last night he was one of the honored guests at a banquet given at the Union League club, on Fifth avenue, the richest club in the world.

Sterilizing Fruit Jars

If fruit has once spoiled in a jar, the same thing will happen again unless the jar has been thoroughly cleaned and sterilized. It is not enough to merely wash the jars, they should be boiled. To make sure that they are in good condition, put them in a pan of cold water in which has been dissolved a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder; let come to a boil. The tops, also, should be immersed in boiling water, and old rubbers should never be used.

COUNTY BOARD TO SOLVE INJUNCTION

Roads and Bridges Committee Gives Up the Perplexing Problem at Meeting

The county board of supervisors will have to decide by what means the county can get around the injunction issued by Circuit Judge E. C. Highie restraining the board from proceeding with the construction of roads in the county upon plans not in conformity with the original resolution.

The committee met at the court house yesterday afternoon and attorneys William F. Wolfe and Otto Bosshard were called in as counsel. They decided there was no way in which the committee would surmount the injunction, which was secured by Supervisors Hulberg and Holbek, because specifications were not being followed, and that the proposition would have to be held to the next meeting of the board. Although Supervisors Hulberg and Holbek have since satisfied themselves that the work will proceed in a satisfactory manner under the guidance of the state engineer, and had withdrawn their objection, the injunction was issued upon the original application, and it will not have to be disposed of before the $10,000 worth of improvements can proceed.

It is likely that the board will alter the plans in such manner as to permit the work and that the injunction will not be considered as applying to any later specifications passed by the board.

May Take Appeal

County Attorney Thompson however, is confident that the overruling of his demurrer, which he made on the ground that the county of La Crosse was not made a party to the injunction and that the members of the committee were enjoined simply as individuals is an error on the part of the court, and he signifies his willingness to carry the matter to the supreme court. The case may be appealed. No action was taken yesterday however.

GOFFE HEARD BY A LARGE AUDIENCE

The lecture of W. T. Goffe, Wisconsin representative of the Sheldon Business school, was heard by a large audience at Masonic temple last night. Mr. Goffe takes up scientific salesmanship in the series of lectures he will give at this place nightly and leading business firms have subscribed for course tickets for their employees.

The speaker took up the first factor in a business deal salesmanship. He dealt with constructive and destructive forces in the individual temperament, mental activity, motives and ideas of the customer. He claimed confidence was a basis of trade and that a man's success depended first upon his ability to inspire and maintain confidence.

The second factor, the handling of goods and the analysis of the sale, will be taken up.

CEMETERY MEETING POSTPONED

On account of the meeting of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association at Winona today, and the absence of several members of the cemetery association on this account, the regular monthly meeting of the Oak Grove cemetery association was postponed until the members return. The regular monthly routine of bills and accounts will be considered.

HEALTH INSURANCE AT THE UNIVERSITY

Head of Pharmacy Department Would Levy $1 Tax and Keep Physician for the Students

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 6.—(Special.)—Sickness insurance for all students of the university of Wisconsin is a plan advocated by Prof. Edward Kremers, head of the department of pharmacy, in a talk to a class of students in pharmacy. Dr. Kremers proposes to assess a fee of $1 a head against all students registering at the university. There would be a physician, or two if necessary, employed by the university to attend only to students who may be ill or who suffer accidents.

Prescriptions ordered by these physicians if taken to a druggist would, by this plan, be filled free of charge, and at the end of the year all would be paid for by the university bursar. Dr. Kremers is confident, in view of the workings of the plan in Europe, that not only would the insurance fee provide for all expense, but it would leave an excess for the profit side of the ledger.

Dr. Kremers suggested this plan 15 years ago, but it was voted down as visionary, its opponents saying it might be all right for Europe but it was too radical a departure for Wisconsin. Since then he has given the subject much thought and cherishes the hope that it may be given a trial.

Objections that it would bring the institution into a commercial existence bring from the pharmacy head the reply that it already is deeply engaged in such business, with the sale of $2,000 worth of milk a month and $70,000 worth of dairying products a year. The university even sells peaches by the basket.

The university, it is also urged by Dr. Kremers, raises a large percent of its own drug plants for use in experimentation in the university laboratories, and it is his hope that the time will come when the university will be able to dispense these drug products to students at, or nearly at, cost.

The student sickness insurance system has been successful in Leipzig, Germany, where the students have been well cared for and the university has made a profit besides. Prof. Louis Kahlenberg director of the course in chemistry, heartily endorses the plan for Wisconsin, and calls attention to its great success at Leipzig, where it has furnished a fund large enough to enable the university to send sick and ailing students over the Alps into sunny Italy to recuperate.

800 BUFFALOES SET WILD BY PRAIRIE FIRE

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.—Canada's national park at Wainwright, Alb., has been destroyed by fire and 800 buffaloes have escaped and are roaming the prairies. The flames destroyed the fences and the animals disappeared in a wild stampede. The buffalo were secured from Montana by Canada last year.

KORSHAK THREATENS TO SUE

Diamond Suspect at Dubuque Insulted at Hotel
Man's Treatment
Wants $25,000

From what can be gleaned today the "hush" system of the police in the handling of the burglaries in La Crosse during fair week has obliterated all hope to getting the robbers. J. F. Walsh, proprietor of the Hotel Law, announced today that absolutely nothing, to his knowledge, had been accomplished in running down the sneak thieves who on October 3 made away with $2,700 worth of diamonds and jewelry belonging to his wife. Paul Lutz, furrier, has not recovered his furs, and the families residing where attempts at entry and robbery were made, are not resting easily.

It develops that some time was lost in the attempt to recover the lost jewelry of Mrs. Walsh by the delay in getting the number of the watch stolen with the diamonds. This, the police announced, was essential, so Walsh wrote to the Chicago firm where the watch had been purchased. Several days elapsed.

The police, it is understood, were in possession of the carat weight of several of the stolen gems, and gave these descriptions to local jewelers. As far as is known no arrests have been made in connection with the Lutz fur store robbery or the burglaries of private residences, but the police are still working on the cases.

Suspects Threaten Suit

Paul Korshak and Irene Beauman, arrested at Dubuque while attempting to peddle diamonds including a brooch among pawnbrokers, and released when his brother, Attorney Max Korshak of Chicago satisfied the police he was all right and that the gems were not those stolen from La Crosse, threaten suit against the proprietor of the Wales hotel, Dubuque, for alleged slander. Korshak and the girl were arrested in the presence of many guests in connection with a dispute over their bill, after having been released on suspicion of having stolen the diamonds.

ELECT OFFICERS TUESDAY, OCT. 12

The regular meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' association of the high school will be held next Tuesday evening, Oct. 12, and Professor Benezet who is chairman of the program committee has announced that a very interesting and instructive program has been arranged.

Miss Mathews, a teacher in the high school, will speak on the subject, "Compulsory Gymnasium Work for Girls," and as Miss Mathews is well versed in this subject this feature alone should prove a drawing card.

Mr. Charles Schweizer will talk on "Modern Tendencies in Our Schools" and this should also be an interesting discussion.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at this meeting. Light refreshments will be served.

WILL SUE DRIVER WHO ASSAULTED HER

Mollie Lense, who was assaulted by Nels Munkaby, a laundry driver, in an argument over a torn shirt, which the woman refused to accept from the laundry, and for which Munkaby was convicted in county court yesterday, will start suit against Munkaby for damages in the sum of $200.

The woman claims that Munkaby threw her to the floor and dragged her from the dining room to the kitchen of her home, and that as a result she suffered serious internal injuries.

THIRTY DAYS FOR THEFT OF BUTTER

Thirty days in jail is the sentence administered by County Judge John Brindley in county court this morning to Frank McDonald for the theft of three pounds of butter from the store of Jake Hahn on Mill street.

McDonald entered the store and purchased a few things for a lunch, and when he departed took with him the package of butter which had been wrapped up and lay on the counter awaiting the delivery man.

WILL PROSECUTE CASE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 5.—Officials of the department of justice say that the agreement between the American sugar trust to pay Adolph Segal $750,000 and return to him his not for $1,250,000 in payment for the ruination of his sugar refining business in Philadelphia will have no effect whatever upon the government's case against the officers of the trust.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the cuticle is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing, the skin, and maintaining its temperature and preserving its normal softness, pliability and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibres and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin affections are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acid humors with which it is filled, into the sensitive membranous flesh lying just beneath the outer covering and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why scratching the outer skin affords no relief from the itching and burning. S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. Local applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes right into the circulation, reaches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Stocks were steady after the opening declines. United States Steel common was the most prominent feature, selling at 89 1/2 to 89 against 90 1/2, yesterday's close. Other stocks generally opened at fractional declines. Union Pacific declined 1/4, and Missouri Pacific lost a point. Losses in other stocks were generally confined to small fractions. New York Central and Erie held firm slightly above yesterday's close. After the first fifteen minutes a steadier tone developed. At the end of the time many stocks showed small net gains.

11 a. m.—A firmer tone developed in the market after the first fifteen minutes and although gains were limited to fractions there was less evidence of selling pressure and a more confident tone prevailed. Steel common was better supported.

Government bonds unchanged; others steady.

Noon.—The announcement of increased dividend in Atchafalaya caused a slight rise but pronounced selling in both that stock and Steel common forced them down more than one point. Other stocks including St. Paul Reading and Union Pacific declined in a general downward movement sustaining losses of one point or more.

2 p. m.—Under heavy sales Steel common declined to 87 1/2. Outside of this issue the market suffered little, the majority of the declines being moderate fractions.

The stock market closed strong.

ANCIENT BOOK RECALLS MEMORIES OF BYGONE DAYS

Time Stained Pages Hold Interesting Records

An interesting relic—a volume that recalls many memories of the past, is the old prescription book shown in the picture.

This book was in use in 1855 at the drug store owned by Carleton & Hovey in Lowell, Mass. The sheepskin back is ragged and the pages bear the marks and stains of more than half a century. The book is numbered IX, and covers a period of over five years, from 1854 to 1859.

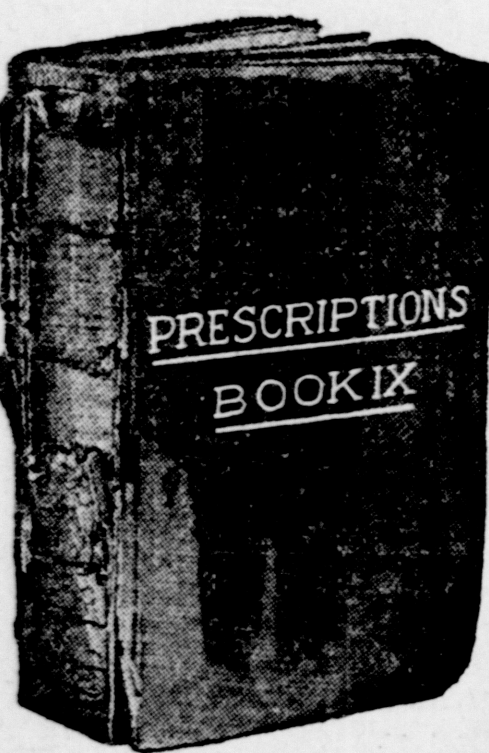

It is only an old time apothecary's record, yet could we but follow each of these prescriptions, we would enter the doors of almost every home in Lowell. How many anxious hearts have borne these little billets to seek relief for some loved one, after the doctor's visit.

Some pages in the book have been referred to more often than others, indicating that the formulas upon these pages have been more frequently renewed.

The page most soiled and handled of all in the book, showing the continued use of over 50 years, is dated Saturday, June 9, 1855, and contains prescription No. 55461, which was filled for Rev. Father John O'Brien, of St. Patrick's parish, when he was stricken with ill health.

This prescription proved most effective in Father John's case and he was soon restored to health and strength, after taking the medicine.

As Father John resumed his duties in the parish, visiting the sick, he frequently recommended the medicine which had restored him to health, and the people going to the drug store would call for "Father John's Medicine." Thus the medicine was named by the people and advertised with the approval of Father John himself.

For a tonic, food medicine, to build up those who are weak and run down, Father John's Medicine is most effective, because its elements are the exact kind of nourishment that blood and tissue are made of. It is not a patent medicine, as the foregoing facts clearly prove, but the prescription of an eminent specialist. It is free from alcohol or dangerous drugs. Many physicians, clergymen, charitable institutions and hospitals throughout the country recommend and endorse Father John's Medicine, because they know of its merit and wonderful power to cure.

THE CENTRAL BANK PLAN AS OUTLINED

Proponents Claim it Will Automatically Provide and Regulate Volume of Money in Circulation

CENTRALIZATION IS FEARED

Many Authorities See in the Plan a Scheme of Wall Street to Control Nation's Money Supply

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 6.—Although the plan has not yet been worked out in all of its details it is now possible to give an outline of the general scheme of the proposed central bank of the United States, the establishment of which will be recommended by the monetary commission to congress.

According to the information reaching the United Press it is to be essentially a bankers' bank or agency to do business with other banks. It is not to receive deposits from the public nor to do any general banking business. Its main function will be to act as the fiscal agent of the government and through its large note issuing capacity—limited beyond a certain point by taxation—to come to the aid of other banks in times of emergency.

Organization with a capital of $10,000,000, the stock is to be apportioned among the several national banks and perhaps to state banks also on the basis of their capital with a provision prohibiting any individual bank from acquiring voting rights in excess of its quota. These stockholders are to elect a board of directors by territorial districts. In this way it is claimed by advocates of the measure, every section of the country, would have a representative of its own choosing on the board.

Government to Have Voice

There is also to be another board, composed of government directors, of which the leading officials of the treasury are to be the members, designated by the president and also the treasury and the comptroller of the currency. This is to afford the joint private and government control which it is alleged has contributed so largely to the successful operation of the bank of France and the Bank of Germany.

The active officers of the bank are to be selected for life, or good behavior, by joint action of these two actual transaction in business he this provision is to eliminate politics as far as possible and to afford a safeguard to prevent any syndicate or clique from obtaining undue control. The two boards are to co-operate in the management of the bank, jointly deciding questions of policy, etc. All government moneys are to go into this bank and it is to make government disbursements. It is to have branches in each city where there is now a sub-treasury, replacing them and in such cities as are necessary to give adequate service to all parts of the country. The central bank is to issue its own notes which as the United States bond secured national bank circulation is retired, are gradually to supplant them. Central's notes are to be secured by a large gold reserve and by giltedged commercial credit or paper representing twelve solvent concerns. It is argued this will insure elasticity because the notes issued by the bank in times of stringency would automatically contract and be retired from circulation when the transaction creating the credit has been completed and paid.

Bonds Not Security

No loans are to be made or discounts accepted on bonds or stocks, real estate mortgages, or any speculative security. The operations of the bank are to be confined strictly to the commercial field, handling papers based on staple commodities, in this way to make good live bills receivable as collateral, or re-discounts endorsed by the stock holder banks. Although the alleged purpose of the central bank is not to make large profits, but rather to provide a reserve of credit and strength for the support of the banks and industries of the country, profits that do accrue are to be divided between the stockholders and the national treasury.

To Strengthen System

It is claimed by the advocates of this scheme that such an institution would give the banking system of the country an organization and cohesion it has always lacked, that it would be a bond of union for all banks, great and small, much like the clearing house associations of large places and instead of entering into competition with them would be a resource for each of them. It is also argued that because it would manage the operations of the public treasury the government receipts and disbursements would cease to be a disturbing factor.

Taft Favors It

President Taft already has indicated his friendliness to the central bank idea. It also has the support of chairman of the banking of financial committees of the house and senate and has been endorsed by many of the bankers of the country.

But the general public is admittedly skeptical. The fear has been freely expressed that the central bank would mean a concentration of the money power and that Wall Street would be soon in control of the currency of the country, despite any or all safeguards that congress might throw about the operations of such an institution.

Sick Headache And indigestion

The Former Is Very Frequently Caused By the Other.

The pneumo-gastric nerve connects the stomach region directly with the brain, and when the stomach is out of order the head is almost certain to be affected through reflex or sympathetic nervous irritation.

The headache of dyspepsia and indigestion is of every variety from the dull and least defined to the most acute pain. Sometimes the whole mass of the brain seems racked with anguish; at others, the ache is confined to the back or front part of the head. The first form is usually of a confused character, and is often accompanied by dimness of vision, and a mild vertigo, or so-called "rush of blood to the head." The victims of this symptom complain of a "swimming" or "lightness" in the head, and dizziness, or a sensation of motion while the body is still, and specks, or flashes of light before the eyes.

Persons subject to indigestion and other forms of stomach trouble are very frequent sufferers from headache, and in numerous cases a sick headache is the only noticeable symptom of indigestion present; in others, there are stomach manifestations as well.

The majority of people regard this headache as a separate disease, instead of a symptom of stomach-disease, which it usually is; and they attempt to treat it separately, and make the mistake of endeavoring to obtain relief through the use of headache powders, tablets, pills and seltzers, the use of which is extremely dangerous, as many of them contain such powerful depressant drugs as acetanilid, phenacetin, antipyrine, caffeine, etc., which depress the heart, brain and nerve centers, and lower arterial pressure; and many a person with a weak heart has become dangerously ill shortly after taking one of these headache remedies. They also interfere with the digestive processes, and actually make the dyspepsia worse than before.

In order to get rid of the headache of indigestion—and most headaches are caused by stomach trouble—one should endeavor to reach and remove the cause, and the headache effect will soon be relieved.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS do not cure the symptoms; they cure the cause of the headache, which permanently removes the symptoms. They digest every atom of food in the stomach, cure all forms of stomach trouble, and the headache, and every other disagreeable symptom and untoward effect is quickly gotten rid of.

Don't make the mistake of trying to cure your dyspeptic or nervous headache through the use of headache powders, tablets, etc. Use common sense, good judgment, and one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and you will be agreeably surprised at the rapidity with which the headache will be relieved and cured simultaneously with the relief and cure of the stomach disturbance.

central bank arises from memory of the disasters which befell the old "Bank of the United States" conceived by Alexander Hamilton and killed by Andrew Jackson. It is feared by many that the new organization in its development would be put a repetition of the old.

The old bank of the United States was a corporation organized for private profit. According to its charter the government was a minority stockholder, having only $7,000,000 out of a total of $35,000,000 stock. The government had only five out of twenty-five directors and they worked as one body so that the government could be outvoted.

The old bank did business just as any bank does today, accepting the people's deposits and making loans and discounts to the public. It worked as a private organization and for a time was successful despite frauds in the sale of the stock which was taken by the people and occasional bad management.

At the beginning of Jackson's administration its capital was about a quarter and its loans, circulation and deposits about one fifth of the whole amount held and issued by all of the banks of the country. Its parent office was in Philadelphia and it had 25 branches through the country. Its bank notes were as good as gold in every part of the United States and were accepted abroad within a fraction of their value at home, according to the current rates of exchange. Later tales began to come to Jackson of the corrupt influence the bank was exerting in controlling elections and he came to believe that it was a dangerous institution. So he vetoed the proposed extension of its charter, withdrew from it all deposits of government money, scattered them among state and private banks of his own choosing and when the panic of 1837 came, most of those banks failed and a good portion of the government funds were lost.

In the meantime, the withdrawal of the government charter and funds caused the bank of the United States to fail, bringing widespread loss to the people who had funds on deposit and who had invested in its stocks because of the government backing it had.

Under the proposed central bank so its advocates claim, none of these things could occur. Its opponents while admitting that the new bank might possibly not go into the business of controlling elections, as was charged in the case of the Old United States Bank, it would be well nigh impossible to prevent its domination in time by privately controlled money interests of the country, working through the national banks that hold stock and through personal influence with the government directors.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

HIT BY LOCOMOTIVE, WOMAN MAY DIE

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—Mrs. Herman Berndt, wife of a well-to-do Osseo farmer, was perhaps fatally injured, and her husband had a marvelous escape from death, when a fast Soo passenger train struck the wagon in which they were riding, at the junction of the Soo tracks and the Osseo road, last night.

TEN CENT FINE BARS GIRL FROM SCHOOL

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—Ten cents stands between Helen Magnusson, the 12-year-old daughter of Charles M. Magnusson, and an education in the Minneapolis public schools.

The ten cents is a fine and has stood since last June, when the girl was suspended from Tuttle school, after her father refused to pay the fine levied by the teacher for alleged damages to one of the textbooks used by her in school.

When Tuttle school opened this fall Helen was sent, but she was denied admission.

Magnusson has retained an attorney and seeks to compel the authorities to admit the child.

HUMANE SOCIETIES MEET AT ST. PAUL

S. PAUL, Oct. 6.—The American Humane association with more than one hundred delegates from various parts of the United States, began its thirty-third annual meeting in the old capitol building, St. Paul.

Men and women, who have devoted years to the study of humanitarianism toward children and animals, will express their views in the three days set aside for this gathering.

There are 543 societies that reported to the national organization this year. Fourteen states have compulsory humane education laws; five state have federation of societies, and eight humane education societies submitted reports to the central organization. Thirty-nine societies have organized within the past year.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO OUST BELTRAMI MAN

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 6.—Gov. A. O. Eberhart was today asked by the grand jury of Beltrami county, now in session, to begin an investigation looking to the removal from office of Court Commissioner M. E. Slocum and County Attorney Charles R. McCusick. Malfeasance in office is intimated. Direct charges are made that the court commissioner charged and collected from the county fees to which he had no right.

PIERCED BY PIKE POLE

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. 6.—Sergeant Charles C. Mauck, aged 28, stationed at Fort Brady, met sudden death a few miles down the river while out in a launch with a number of soldiers.

To prevent the launch from colliding with a boathouse, Private Winders braced himself with a pike pole against the boathouse. It snapped in two and the sharp metallic end went hurtling directly at Mauck, piercing his heart and causing death almost instantly.

TRAINS COLLIDE; TWO DIE

LAPEER, Mich., Oct. 6.—Engineer Charles Tucker and Albert Wisemiller are dead, while Fireman Ed Slinger, John Dimmelman and Conductor J. Grinkall were hurt in a collision of freight trains at Columbiaville.

SHOOTS WIFE; KILLS SELF

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 6.—Dennis Sweeney, connected with the coal mines at New Saylor, near Des Moines, early today shot his wife, from whom he separated some time ago, then killed himself. The woman cannot live.

MOTHER SEEKS HER KIDNAPED BABE

DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 6.—Asserting that her husband kidnapped their one-year-old daughter from her mother's home at Jamestown, N. D., Mrs. O. E. Brown came to the Duluth station to ask aid in locating them.

She says she is certain that he is in the city, as he left her because she would not come here to live.

ITALIAN FEUD COSTS ONE MAN HIS LIFE

CUMBERLAND, Wis., Oct. 6.—Nick Alberico, an Italian, aged 16, was shot and instantly killed at Drummond. Louis Carbone, another Italian, aged 17 years, is accused of breaking into a section house, stealing a rifle and murdering Alberico, after which he disappeared.

Alberico was called to the door of his boarding car and shot in cold blood.

The shooting is believed to be the result of a feud existing between the Alberico and Carbone families and was started by Alberico's cattle breaking into Carbone's turnip patch.
